Dear Hiring Manager:

I believe I have a good mix of skills for the position of .NET Developer. I've had experience with .Net technology starting at my previous job where I progressively took on projects developing web applications using MVC, Entity Framework, SQL, Ajax, jQuery, etc. In my present job, I've been working with .Net Web API and Knockout.js. I'm looking for a work environment where I can support internal customers and work with colleagues face-to-face. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you.
